TALKING HEADS DOUBLE BILL BY ALAN BENNETT

Riverside Theatre, Ulster University, Cromore Road, Coleraine, BT52 1SA

8.00pm

A Chip in The Sugar tells the story of mild, late middle-aged Graham Whittaker, who finds life becoming complicated as his widow-mother, with whom he still lives, reunites with a dubious old flame named Frank Turnbull. Graham becomes increasingly jealous when Mr Turnbull takes an ever-growing hold on Mam. But Mr Turnbull is hiding a dark secret.

The second half of this double-bill, A Lady of Letters, introduces us to Irene Ruddock, a single, middle-aged woman living near Bradford - who is not afraid to speak, or rather to write, her mind. She frequently writes to her MP, the police, the chemist - everyone she can, to remedy the social ills she sees around her. But her letter writing is to get her into rather a lot of trouble.

CASH RETURNS

Riverside Theatre, Ulster University, Cromore Road, Coleraine, BT52 1SA
8.00pm

'Cash Returns' has been hailed the greatest and most exciting Johnny Cash & June Carter Tribute in the UK and Ireland by fans, promoters and venue owners alike. Johnny Cash fans will be able to once again walk the line with the award winning show at The Riverside Theatre on Saturday 22nd September, for what is set up to be another very special night after a sell-out show last year.

The show has picked up 'Best Tribute Band' at 2016's 'HOT COUNTRY TV AWARDS'. Now with a fantastic live and energetic six piece band, including the award winning JP Mac as Johnny Cash, whose baritone voice and tone is scarily uncanny to the Man in Black's himself. JP is then joined on stage by the show's newcomer Kim Crumley as June Carter. Kim brings all the vibrancy and onstage sassiness of June Carter complete with fantastic vocals. Combined, JP and Kim along with their fantastic band truly bring their audiences with them to a place when Cash & Carter reigned where you will be singing and dancing along with them in the aisles and dance floors.

The high octane show is currently playing to sell out audiences all over the UK and Ireland including Antrim's own Crumlin Road Gaol on into European festivals - If you go along to the shows you will hear all the classics, 'Folsom Prison Blues', 'A Boy Named Sue', 'Ring Of Fire', 'I Walk the Line', 'Hurt' and of course the duo hit 'Jackson'.

QUIET PLACES BY NICOLA NEMEC

Flowerfield Arts Centre, Portstewart

'Quiet Places' represents Nicola Nemeč's responses to her residency on Achill Island (awarded by the Achill Heinrich Boll Association) and her intense preoccupations with the shifting atmospheres of the North Antrim landscape in which she lives and works. Recurring themes such as the contrast between man-made and natural forms, boglands, mountains and seascapes, remain present in the work. Spontaneous, fluid and organic, Nemeč's tones are subtle, textured and multi-layered like memory and the landscape itself.

Artist Talk: Nicola presents an informal FREE talk on her work on Thursday 20 September at 2.00pm. All welcome.

HOW TO EXPLODE: THE ILLUSTRATED LIFE OF PATRICK SANDERS

Riverside Theatre, Ulster University, Cromore Road, Coleraine, BT52 1SA

Patrick Sanders (14 July 1976 – 16 January 2017) - illustrator, performer, artist and activist. Patrick sought to explore and confront stupidity and prejudice in every sphere of his short life, seeking to use his undoubted skills to educate where possible and lampoon where not.

A gentle radical; his art is incendiary only when strictly necessary. His death by suicide in 2017 robbed the world of a unique voice and an emerging talent who was just beginning to get deserved recognition for his inspired and insightful work.

He spoke out against medieval bigotry and oafishness, and used his exceptional artistic talent to imagine a more enlightened, united Northern Ireland. He was central to the grassroots arts scene, and understood its importance as a breeding ground for protest and political transformation. This exhibition is just a small selection of his extraordinary body of work, his legacy, and his unique world view. He will be forever missed. But his work shines on.

This exhibition is dedicated to fearlessness, to glorious mischief, to hope and to love.

* Join us to officially launch this exhibition with Patrick's family and friends and a complimentary glass of wine in the Riverside Bar on: Thursday 20th September at 7.30pm. ****

Riverside Gallery: Open Monday – Friday 10am – 4pm and during performance and events in the evening and weekends. Free Admission.
